

Please DO execute the $27K fine to CBS for the Super Bowl half time exhibition. More if you can. It will amount to a pittance for the individual affiliates, but send the right message to the community at large.

Ms Jackson apologies "if" she offended anyone. Why "if"? She KNOWS she offended millions. She says the act did not go "as intended". What DID she intend? It was simply a lewd public act intended to do just what it has done. And now CBS will make even MORE money due to the numbers of people who are going to watch the Grammys--since she and her conspirator are being allowed to appear-- to see if she or Mr Timberlake have something more to say on the matter.

The $27K, as I said, will be a pittance, but the right pittance to do.